

KARIBOW – PanTerrania

Three years after the last completely newly composed album 'Age of Amber', KariBow are back with the concept album 'PanTerrania', consisting of two CDs full to the brim and 110 minutes of diverse and melodic prog'n'roll. The album comes in a glossy six-panel Digipak with a 24-page art booklet. Technically, the powerful yet crystal-clear production offers everything the audiophile listener can expect, and with its 19 brand new tracks, the album presents the wide artistic range that KariBow have been known for over the years.

On the one hand, lovers of melodic rock music, ballads and catchy tunes will get their money's worth, but fans of complex progressive rock compositions can also look forward to long tracks like e.g. the 52-minute suite 'The Last Illusian'.

The first-class compositions are crowned by brilliant guest contributions from various international musicians, including greats such as guitarist Ian Crichton (SAGA, SiX by SiX), Mick Jagger's nephew John Jagger (Javier Vargas Band), The Tangent mastermind Andy Tillison, Charlie Bramald (Ghost of the Machine) and Monique van der Kolk (Maybe Violet, ex-Harvest) as well as singer-songwriter Nic Koray and guitarist Philipp Dauenhauer, who round off the line-up alongside Oliver Rüsing.

This high-calibre artistic line-up and the multi-layered arrangements guarantee long-lasting musical enjoyment and make 'PanTerrania' a first-class listening experience.
